

GET BIG STORE OF LIQUOR IN RAID AT LYNCH

Six Men, Five Stills, 1404
Gallons Wine, Much
Whiskey Taken

TRIALS THIS WEEK

Hartan County Sheriff and Men in Biggest Raid Ever in County—
Search Town From 12:30
to 7:30 a. m.

Special to the Daily News
HARTAN, Mar. 5.—Sheriff Blair, leading his deputies into Lynch Monday night, staged the largest whiskey raid ever held in Hartan county.
The officers found in the basement of a hotel twenty-seven barrels of wine, containing 52 gallons to the barrel. Besides this, a large amount of whiskey was destroyed, and about five stills were captured and brought to the sheriff's office in Hartan.

Sheriff Blair took the train Monday night and got off with his men
at a station about eight miles before Lynch. He then walked his men this distance, and they started the raid in Lynch at about 12:30 and continued until 7:30 in the morning. Of the places searched, only one of the occupants was able to escape, and the officers believe that he is hiding
some place in Lynch or the vicinity.
The following were arrested: John Liso, John Lubie, Fike Cross, C.
Rastin, John Telli and John Konrad.
Two counts, that of selling and having in their possession whiskey, were charged by the Commonwealth against all the defendants except John Telli and John Konrad.
John Liso was convicted on one charge by a jury in the county court Saturday and he had a hung jury on the other charge. He was given 60 days and thirty days in jail. John Lubie was convicted on both counts and given $300 fine and 60 days in jail. The other cases will be taken during the week.

LaFollette's Quiet Hour

Senator Robert M. LaFollette likes nothing better than a good book after the cares of a busy day in Congress. And always, there's the companionship of his wife and daughter, Pola. Frequently the senator reads aloud to them.

LEGISLATOR WANTS VOLSTEAD TRUCE FOR HOME COMING

FRANKFORT, Mar. 5.—The "good old days" would be restored for the period of June 10 to 25, the dates of the Kentucky Home-Coming of 1924, should the Kentucky General Assembly act favorably on a bill introduced in the House of Representatives
by Representative Lee L. Shummons of Louisville, providing for the repeal of the Volstead act in Kentucky for the occasion of the celebration, a bonus for growing grain and various conditions which would combine for a grand and glorious occasion.

The bill would deal seriously with prohibition agents, sheriffs, constables, policemen or other law enforcement authorities who would attempt to interfere with any returning Kentuckian who might be enjoying the red liquor, moonshine or home brew of his native state during the time provided for. Officials violating this Volstead "armistice" would be liable to penalty in the form of a fine of $500 to $1000 and jail sentence of 30 to 60 days.

MIDDLESBORO IN BASEBALL LEAGUE

Appalachians Consider This City As Successor for Greenville or Morristown

KNOXVILLE, March 5.—Greenville
and Morristown will not be in the Appalachian league this year, according to information secured recently from officials in those two places by League President Grover C. Davis. A lack of interest was assigned as the reason for the Butler City's failure to respond to frequent letters written in regard to staying in.

With these two clubs definitely heard from, President Davis will probably set a date this week for the meeting. He intimated that he might select Friday with Johnson City as the gathering place.

President Davis is undecided as to whether to invite Bigfield, W. Va., or Middlesboro, Ky., and also to send representatives. This will be determined in the next day or two.

Determination of a four or six club circuit will be left to the league meeting. While Morristown and Greenville have declared they will not be in the league, yet this will not be official until they fail to post their forfeit at the coming league meeting.

SHOOTS DOWN HARLAN WOMAN

Assailant Still at Large, Victim in Serious Condition—Cause
Unknown

Special to the Daily News
HARLAN, Mar. 5.—At about 4:30
yesterday afternoon, John White walked up to a Mrs. Gerley, who was a few paces in front of him on the north end of Main street, and shot her twice in the neck. She fell at his feet, bleeding profusely, and a number of bystanders rushed forward to rescue her.
Then John White stood over the wounded woman and threatened to kill any man who would attempt to help her.
At about this time, John Cross, driving a delivery wagon, came up to see what had happened. As he approached White turned and fled down the street.
Mr. Cross then picked up Mrs. Gerley, who was unconscious by this time, and put her in his wagon and drove to the Harlan hospital. She is still unconscious and in a serious condition.
It is not known what caused the shooting, and as yet John White has not been found.

SENATORS FIND MORE MENTION OF 'PRINCIPAL'

Man Referred Thought
Not to Be Attorney-
General Daugherty

Committee Regard Telegrams of Highest Importance, Seek
to Establish Identity

By Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, Mar. 5.—Without hearing any witnesses the Senate Oil Committee adjourned an executive session today until tomorrow.
The committee, however, examined
a number of telegrams which it considered contained important information. It found further reference to "principal" mentioned in one of the telegrams previously read into the record. Ira H. Bennett, editorial writer on McLean's Washington Post was the author of one of the "principal" messages sent to McLean January 29. The message said there would be no rocking the boat and no resignations and added that the principal was expecting a reaction from political attacks. Some committeemen said they regarded the telegrams examined today of possibly high importance. Every effort will be made to establish the identity of "principal", who, however, is said not to be Attorney General Daugherty.

TIME NOT RIPE FOR P. I. INDEPENDENCE

Coolidge Tells Delegation U. S. Must Still Protect These Islands

By Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, Mar. 5.—President Coolidge today informed the Philippine independence mission in his opinion the time had not yet come for separation of the Philippines from the United States. He asserted in the present state of world relationship the American government owes an obligation to continue extending a protecting arm to people of these lands.

of every kind, suits, coats, street dresses, afternoon dresses and evening dresses as well as hats of various styles, will be displayed by G. H. Tal-

Manning theatre at 7 o'clock tonight.

son, Vivian Salmon and Jess Buchanan.

WOMAN WITH PURPLE BEDROOM SLIPPERS ON STREET HERE TODAY

On such days as this when the rain is pouring down and the sidewalks and streets are flooded, heavy footwear and rubbers are not out of place. In view of these conditions of discomfort, it is not surprising that a woman, wearing new purple bedroom slippers, created considerable comment.

Along the wet sidewalks she trod,
giving no heed to the questioning glances cast in her direction. She had on a dark coat, appropriate hat, black hosiery and the dainty bedroom slippers.

Perhaps this is the latest fad and the girl is a little ahead of the times, perhaps she is openly defying tradition and costume and attempting to originate a new style. There is a chance that she left home hurriedly and forgot to give proper attention to her footwear. There is little doubt that her feet were thoroughly soaked by the time she returned home.

New Plan Provides Cash

FINANCE BY BONDS

Soldiers' Committee Asks Congress to Contract Debt of Billion and Half For Them

By Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, Mar. 5.—A two fold soldiers' bonus plan providing options for full cash payments or a paid up life insurance was proposed to the House Ways and Means committee today by a committee of veterans representing house Democrats.
Representative Jeffers of Alabama who presented the plan argued the government owed former service men adjusted compensation which should be offered in "cash of the realm". He said if all veterans elected to take cash it would cost $1,319,000,000
which would be met by a bond issue.
This would provide a dollar a day for home service and a dollar and a quarter a day for overseas, payments to be limited to $500 for home and $625 for overseas.

ADMINISTRATION ROAD BILL PASSES

mal Regents' Board Reported

FRANKFORT, Mar. 5.—House
sixty-two to twenty-one today passed the administration road bill. All amendments adopted by the Senate yesterday were adopted by rising vote.

By Associated Press.
FRANKFORT, Mar. 5.—Among bills reported out by the House Rules Committee today was Representative Strange's measure creating a board of regents of five members for each eastern and western state normal school with the superintendent of public instruction chairman of both boards.

COMMANDER THIS RECRUIT- ING DISTRICT HERE YESTERDAY

Col. Frederick G. Turner, commander of the Cincinnati recruiting district of which this section is a part, was in Middlesboro yesterday inspecting local recruiting conditions. While here he was the guest of Sgt. Michael M. Gordon, local recruiter.

Col. Turner stated that the army would be up to full peace strength by May 31 and urges all men wishing to enlist to do so before the quota is reached. After that time, examinations for recruits, including previous service men, will be more strict. He complimented this station on its work and stated that splendid co-operation was given by the newspapers.

Three Enlist Yesterday

Three boys enlisted in the army here yesterday. Herbert Hobbs, of Middlesboro, was assigned to the Tenth Infantry at Fort Thomas; Milt Marcus, of Cabbage, will be sent to Hawaii and Floyd Young, of Bryson, Tenn., will be sent to the infantry branch at the Vancouver barracks, Washington.

Hurt In Fall From Slide

Little Ola Marie Hollingsworth, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. M. H. Hollingsworth, was hurt yesterday afternoon when she fell off the slide at the school playground. She was uninjured until late last night, but she is reported much better this morning and doctors believe there will be no bad consequences from the fall.

Christian Plan Revival

big revival meeting to start April 27, a week after Easter. Dr. De-ware W. Scott of Ashland will preach for the services and special music for

Books for W. S. Library

A number of books for the high school library were received at the Carnegie library yesterday. Mrs. T.
D. Arnold, librarian, wrote for each book and the publishers sent the books
some of them with no postage paid or their return.

Twins Are Civil War Veterans

JOHN AND GEORGE HAW

The oldest surviving twins, Confederate veterans of the Civil war, are believed to be John H. Haw and George P. Haw of Richmond, Va.
They celebrated their eighty-fifth birthday last July. George was an attorney until two years ago, while John took up farming and established a wide reputation as a fox hunter.

SPRING BUYING IS EARLIER THAN ANY TIME PREVIOUSLY

That spring buying is earlier this year than at any time previously seems to be the opinion of Middles-boro clothing merchants. Whether this is due to the especial attractiveness of this spring's styles, or to the fact that Easter comes so late, no one wants to wait until then to buy new clothes, the merchants are not prepared to say.

All of the merchants spoke of the extraordinary sale of spring hats from January when they first began to come. The new millinery that has come in has been sold out repeatedly, they say. One merchant said that his February business was 90 per cent
spring clothes.

The fact that shipments from New York houses and other places where goods are bought has been rather slow indicates that the early season is general throughout the country and that no longer do women wait until fair weather and warm days to put on their new spring clothes.

GET LARGE STILL NEAR FERN LAKE

No Arrest Made But 65 Gallon Apparatus and Mash Is Taken

A completely equipped 65-gallon copper still and a quantity of materials for making moonshine whiskey were confiscated by Sheriff Jack Greer of Claiborne county and Mid-dlesboro police officers early this morning near Fern Lake.

The still was found in a dug-out on the Tennessee side near the lake.
It was ready for operation and officers believe the owners were kept away by the rain during the night.
Thirty barrels, some of them containing mash, were found in the dugout. The distilling apparatus was brought to the city hall by the officers where it will be destroyed.

No arrests were made in connection with the finding of the still, there being no clues to trace its ownership. This is the fifth still that has been found by officers in the Fern Lake vicinity during the past year.

o'clock tomorrow morning at the St.

dlesboro and vicinity, having lived at

Disclosures of Grand Jury May Be
As Startling As Oil Inquiry Has Shown

By Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, Mar. 5.—Not only charges against two members of Congress, but evidence relating to other suggestions of wrong doing by officials in Washington as well will be laid before the federal grand jury here immediately.

Subjects expected to come under inquiry involve charges that one or more high officials used official information for purposes of speculation, liquor permits wrongly procured through use of money and that official government files were turned over to persons not entitled to use them. For the present, no official will discuss details of these charges nor disclose in what direction the inquiry may lead. The development has created a stir, however, only second to that which followed the oil disclosures.

A Thought

The disciple is not above his master, nor the servant above his lord.
 —Matt. 10:24.

 are servants;
 And you, must grant, the slavery is

 To study to please one, than many.

PROSPERITY FOR MINERS AND OPERATORS

Peace in the bituminous coal industry for the next three years seems to be assured by the harmonious conference between the operators and miners held at Jacksonville, Florida. Under the shrewd leadership of John L. Lewis, of the United Mine Workers, the miners' only instance was upon a longer term for the new contract about to be negotiated. These contracts are usually entered into for a period of two years, but it has been agreed that the next shall be negotiated for a three-year term.

In the light of the action of Congress in setting up the Federal Coal Commission and the excellent report of that commission, neither miner nor operator cared to face the public with another miner's strike at this time.

While coal prices have been high, from the standpoint of the consumer, the operators have not made fabulous profits during the past year. Owing to the inability of Europe to buy of us, because of financial distress abroad and high cost of our fuel as compared with countries where labor is cheaper, the demand fell off in 1923 and the miners were idle many days during the year.

As pointed out by the commission, there are more than 100,000 more miners in America than are needed, and in order that they may live on two or three days' work per week the price per ton is higher than it necessarily should be. The high price reduces the demand at home and cuts us out of the foreign market. It helps no one and the miners and operators are beginning to realize the fact.

Rather than have a strike and its consequences the public will pay the price, that prevailed last year. They should not go higher and probably will not go lower.—Lexington Herald.

THAT EUROPEAN PROBLEM

One of the last great unsettled problems remaining in Europe is the Franco-German one. If that could be solved Europe could really begin to get back to work and peace. The Ruhr adventure, if it has forced Germany to submit, has not yet yielded even as much reparations as France was receiving before the occupation, while it has greatly swollen her own expenditure. The evidence of this slackening in the belief that force is a remedy may be seen in the obvious weakening of the position of M. Poincaré, the prime author of the advance into the Ruhr. To reach a security, and that she should receive that financial assistance which is necessary to enable her to balance her budget. It is also necessary that Germany should have the opportunity to recover as a united country under guarantees that will prevent her aiming for a fresh war which will insure her paying reparations.

France says that she cannot be expected to make a right and proper settlement with Germany, involving the reduction of her claims for reparations unless she receives at least equal compensation from Great Britain and the United States. And Great Britain similarly says that she cannot be expected to pay in full her debt to the United States and forgo at the same time all title both to be paid reparation and to be repaid the loans she made to her allies.

Meanwhile both nations are steadily preparing for the next war—a purely commercial war—and both nations are looking the United States in an effort to induce us to furnish the finances—or at least the news on behalf of one side or the other.

FELLOWSHIP OF PRAYER

Daily Lenten Bible reading and meditation program for (Continued on Page 4) of Federal Council of the Churches of Christ in America.
ASH WEDNESDAY
 The Temptation and Decision of Jesus

Read Mt. 4:1-11. Text 4:10. Then with Jesus unto him, Get thee hence, Satan: for it is written, Thou shalt worship the Lord thy God, and him only shalt thou serve.

Jesus' religious experience with the will of God was a growth, as is ours, and as all real human experience must be. He faced uncertainties that called for moral adventure, for experiment as a means of attaining experience and character. Character for him as for us, came by thinking and living his way through difficult problems, by going forward when he could not see far ahead, by feeling the tremendous pull of temptation and resisting it.

Meditation: When Jesus realized that he possessed great power the question which forced itself upon his attention was: How shall this great possession be used? He was so close to God and God had revealed his will to him so clearly that he decided for all time to use his powers for the eternal good of men.

Personal Question: How am I tempted today?
 Prayer: O Thou strong Son of God, who was tempted to the uttermost and did not sin, be thou our help and star. We look to thee for strength and guidance. Thou knowest how much we need thee. O, abide with us. Amen.

EDITORS DO NOT OPPOSE BOND ISSUE

Inquiries have been addressed by the Kentucky Good Roads Association to sixty editors of the state press, all of whom were declared by headline in the Times and Courier-Journal, to be against the $75,000,000 bond issue.

So far there has been twenty-eight responses to these inquiries. The following editors say (contrary to the impression given by the Times and Courier-Journal headlines) that they are not opposed to the $75,000,000 bond issue, but on the other hand are in favor of it:

The replies of the following editors of the sixty addresses show that they are not against the proposal but are in doubt upon the subject:

D. B. Spragens, editor Marion Falcon, Lebanon; W. H. Jones, editor The Republican, Glasgow; P. C. Matthews, editor The Public Ledger, Maysville; N. E. Riddell, editor Boone Co. Recorder, Burlington; editor Daily Bulletin, Maysville, and The Record, Greenville.

The replies of the following of those addressed confirm answers received by the Courier-Journal and Times and state that they are opposed to the $75,000,000 bond issue.

The replies of all those who are in favor of it and all those who are in doubt together with three of those who are opposed to it, namely eighteen of the twenty-eight, are to the effect that their communities favor

"MEET THE WIFE"

BY BERTON BRADLEY

ALL proper folk would shudder if they heard that common phrase, And they'd look upon the speaker with a cold contemptuous gaze, And they'd think his ways and manners with vulgarly were rife If they heard Bill Hubbard saying, "Meet the Wife!"

THERE'S no doubt that Bill is vulgar, he's a common sort of chap, And There's not a fine patrician in his figure or his map. But if you could see the wonder and his highness and pride Which his features are revealing when his wife is at his side, You would sense a tender glow that suffuses all his life When you heard Bill Hubbard saying, "Meet the Wife!"

LOVE can make pure golden metal of the dullest sort of lead, And it isn't words that matter, but the way that they are said; And when Bill gives you a "knock-down," to his little spouse There's almost a radiant halo 'round his not-too-lofty brows. And his voice is full of wonder and his eyes are misty dim As if dazzled at this fortune which has come alone to him: "Meet my sweetheart, meet my darling, meet my love through storm and strife!" That's what Bill means when he bids you, "Meet the Wife!"

submission of the question to a vote of the people. This is contrary to the contention of the Courier-Journal that where a community may be opposed to a bond issue, it follows as a matter of course that it is opposed to a submission of the question.

In other words, of the twenty-eight replies received, fifteen of them were not, as the Courier-Journal and Times headlines led readers to believe, against the $75,000 bond issue, but nine are declared to be actually for it, while six have not yet made up their mind.

However, the headlines which conveyed this impression, appeared in the two newspapers in question fully a week ago. That may, therefore, by this time be regarded by those papers as "ob-olete."

The Kentucky Good Roads Association does not believe that the General Assembly will accept results of this sort of a poll as a better means of determining public sentiment on a great question of this kind, than a general election.

Adventures of The Twins

By Olive Roberts Barton

NO. 12—PADDYFOOT PURR, THE CAT

"If you wish to ride!" he offered.

It was great fun playing king and queen of Beanstalk Land, and Nancy and Nick enjoyed every minute of it. The real king and queen had gone on a journey to help the people they had been mean to, among others the widow of the dreadful giant Jack had killed. She was left without a cent—not even the golden harp or the hen that laid golden eggs—when Jack ran off with them to the earth. And the king and queen, had never bothered their heads about her since.

So Nancy and Nick had sent them to her with all sorts of good things and some money for her old age. They never forgot that she had been so kind to Jack and had warned him that her husband was a bad man, and tried to hide him. It was no fault of hers when the giant smelled him and said "Fe-fi-fu-fum! I smell the blood of an Englishman!"

Besides there were the children of all the giants that Jack-the-Giant-Killer had killed. The king and queen of Beanstalk Land promised to look after all of them, too, and not return to the palace until it was done. And in the meantime, as I said before, Nancy and Nick had a gorgeous time.

Paddyfoot Purr, the queen's cat, was very kind to them. Of course, he was quite small, to the giants, but to the Twins he was as big as a camel would be to you or me. "If you wish to ride!" he offered, "I shall be most happy to take you both on my back any place you wish to go."

"That will be fine!" cried both the Twins together. And so Paddyfoot Purr lay down while they scrambled on, and then rose and walked majestically through the palace and down the steps, while all the court people and the twenty stiff servants in the hall (for they had all come back) bowed nearly to the ground.

"Where to now?" asked Paddyfoot Purr. "Would you like to see the royal golfish, or the royal mouse-traps, or the royal catnip field?" As he spoke his mouth watered so that he had to lick his whiskers over and over again.

"We're not eat!" laughed Nancy, pulling his ear. "Suppose you take us to the royal sugar-plum store or the royal toy-shop, or the movies." "Ma'am," said Paddyfoot Purr with dignity, "we have no such places in Beanstalk Land. But I shall be glad to show you the flower gardens and fountains and the fine views. But first, if you will pardon me, I shall go 'round to the kitchen door and see if Cook has saved me a herring."

So around to the kitchen door strode Paddyfoot, licking his whiskers at every other step—at the thought of the treat he was going to have.

But suddenly, just as he was about to jump up on his favorite garbage can where every day Cook laid a nice dried herring for his dinner, a large mouse ran across their path and into a drain.

Quick as a flash Paddyfoot went after him, forgetting all about his herring and the little passengers on his back. "Oh!" cried Nancy. "Where are we going?" "I don't know," shouted Nick. "But hok! on tight!"

The train was as dark as a tunnel, except for the gleam of Paddyfoot's eyes.

QUET WAYS

This is my home; these quiet ways
To meet the clouds and there unfurl
And like sweet music—from the sea—
My children's laughter comes to me.
Beyond the verge of the day.

I watch the thin blue smoke curl
To meet the clouds and there unfurl
And like sweet music—from the sea—
My children's laughter comes to me.
Beyond the verge of the day.

A voice I love—that thrills me year—
Is crooning softly near the door
A lullaby a night-bird calls,
And silently the twilight falls.

The cattle lowing in the lane
Are glad to be just home again;
And I am glad for peace-filled days
Where beauty walks in quiet ways.

"When Rover died, he died all over," so tradition says. But in Farmer City, Ill., a 1924 Rover scoffed at tradition. He was struck by a train and left for dead. His master, Ronald Horr, 14, dug a little grave and tenderly laid him to rest. Rover, however, came forth from the land of the dead. Two days after his funeral, he dug himself out, for the frozen dirt had permitted air to seep into his grave, and consciousness returned. Rover forthwith trotted home for a bone.

GARDEN PLANS

Gardening is lots of fun. Like-wise, it's both recreative and profitable. Why not have a garden yourself this year? That little bit of background is just the thing for one. Get out and make it pay its keep. Even if you live in an apartment house, a garden is still possible. Join in with neighbors and rent a nearby vacant lot for the purpose. You'll find property owners generally agreeable to such a plan. The unused portion of a city lot usually averages about one-fiftieth of an acre. During the war, gardens planted on plots that size were made to yield $100 in vegetable produce. Divide that sum by 12 and you will at once see how a garden can cut down on the annual allowance for rent. Don't locate your garden, though, on land which the sun can't shine on at least five hours each day. Don't plan one where the original soil has been buried under cinders, rocks and other debris. Test the soil for fertility first. You can do this very easily by putting a small amount in a cup and mixing it to the consistency of thick cream. Into this solution place a small strip of litmus paper (blue), which can be had at most any drugstore. If, after two hours, any part of the immersed litmus turns red, your garden needs lime. To provide this, scatter a coat of over your ground after it has been turned. One application a year is sufficient. But do not mix the lime with commercial fertilizer as the lime releases the needed nitrogen. Always apply lime to the surface only. Never turn it under. And don't apply it to land intended for Irish potatoes, as it has a tendency to infest the tubers with scab. It is always best to plan the garden beforehand on paper. In this way you can allot different spaces to each crop. The rows should run north and south if possible. But it is more important that they run the long way of the garden. Arrange the plan so that tall-growing plants will not overshadow the smaller ones. TOMORROW: Preparing the soil.

spoons chopped spinach with cream sauce, 6 button radishes, 4 table- spoons fruit salad with 2 tablespoons whipped cream dressing, 2 buttered toasted bread sticks, 2 tablespoons chocolate cream pudding, 2 table- spoons steamed cherry pudding, 3 table- spoons heavy cream, 2 toasted cheese wafers, 2 slices whole wheat bread, 3 tablespoons butter, 4 table- spoons thin cream, 1 pint milk. Ordinarily, the person who is too thin is a "light" eater, never hungry and, consequently, notational about her food. If she has a good digestion, the problem of gaining weight reduces itself merely to gaining an appetite and eating heartily of all foods. But if a delicate digestion accom- panies lack of appetite the choice of foods must be carefully considered and the effects closely watched. Too much fat and too much sweet may keep you as thin as "too little. If you can't drink milk plain use in cocoa and sauces for vegetables, but see that you do use a full pint daily. Use more if you can for it's one of the best foods known for the under- nourished.

Hints From a House-Wife's Kitchen Diary

Some Tasty Dishes You Can Make

A DELICIOUS MINT JELLY FOR MEATS

Many housewives have learned from government bulletins or other wise about peetin, which is the scientific name for what makes jelly. They also know how peetin can be added to the juices of fruits which are deficient in this respect, thus insuring perfect jelly.

But, house-made peetin has other uses as well. For instance, with the addition of a little flavoring matter, it makes an ideal mint jelly to serve with lamb and other meats, whether hot or cold. There are two kinds of peetin, that made with apples and that made with the white skin of oranges. It may be seen that the cost will be very slight, as the oranges themselves are not employed but may be put to other purposes, such as making marmalade, orange juice, etc.

Use six large, thick-skinned oranges. Peel off, as finely as you can, the yellow part of the rind and then take off all the white skin and grind it in a food chopper. Add to this the juice of two lemons and two cups of water. Heat this slowly and boil for five minutes. In the government's bulletin on house-made peetin the use of enameled ware was advised, doubtless because enameled ware is not affected by fruit acids.

After boiling the mixture for five minutes, put it aside until the next morning, when you must add six cups of water and boil for ten minutes. Cool and strain through a flannel jelly bag. Measure the juice and put it on the stove again; when it boils add very slowly an equal amount of sugar. Continue to boil the jelly until it "sheets" when tested from a spoon. Add some green vegetable coloring and six to ten drops of oil of peppermint, according to taste. Pour into hot sterilized glasses and, after cooling, cover with melted paraffin and seal.

PRUNE-LEMON JELLY YOU'LL WANT AGAIN

Here is a delightful children's dessert, either for an ordinary meal or as a treat at a party for little folks. Incidentally, it will be enjoyed by older persons as well, for it is a welcome variation upon the usual gelatin desserts to which all of us are accustomed.

Take half a pound of prunes, put them in cold water for fifteen minutes and then remove pits and have the prunes. Soak two envelopes of gelatin in a cup of cold water, then dissolve this in three pints of boiling water. It is well to do this in an enameled ware saucepan, which is proof against the acids in the fruit. Add the prunes, a scant two cups of sugar, and a cup of lemon juice. Pour into an enameled ware pudding pan or serving dish and chill.

HOW THE ENGLISH MAKE TOFFEE

Swearing of children, was there ever a child who didn't like toffee? If more of these old-fashioned candies were made at home there would be fewer cases of spoiled stomachs in our households and fewer young men and women who take tablets for "indigestion."

The best toffee is made in this manner: Mix four cups of brown sugar and half a cup of corn syrup with half a cup of water, and put on the fire, stirring carefully until all the sugar is dissolved. Let this come to a boil and then take off the fire and add four table spoons of butter. Put the mixture back on the stove once more and boil until the butter has penetrated throughout the candy. Pour onto a greased cookie sheet or tray of any kind and, as the candy cools, mark it into squares. When it has hardened break these apart and wrap each piece separately in wax paper. Incidentally, you will find that the labor of "cleaning up" is a great deal less if you have used an enameled ware saucepan for the cooking, since even the stickiest mixtures do not adhere long to its porcelain-like surface.

CANDIED "SWEETS" IN THE REAL OLD SOUTHERN STYLE

The Southern housewife is the one who knows how to prepare sweet potatoes so beautifully golden brown and so deliciously candied that they fairly melt in your mouth. Here is the way to cook them: Peel three or four medium-sized potatoes; peel and slice them and place the slices in an enameled ware baking dish. In a saucepan put half a cup of water, a cup of brown sugar and two table spoons of butter and cook this mixture until it forms a thick syrup. Add barely a pinch of salt and pour this over the sliced potatoes in the baking dish. Cover and put in a moderate oven for fifteen minutes; then take off the cover and bake a few minutes longer so brown the potatoes on top. Serve from the enameled ware baking dish, which is sturdy enough for the kitchen and attractive enough for the dining room.

FIRST LOAD OF CARS WITH BALLOON TIRES RECEIVED

The first cars equipped with balloon tires to appear on local markets, were received by the Pinnacle Motor company yesterday and are now on display at its garage.

The new style which, it is predicted, will revolutionize the pneumatic style automobile tires have thinner walls, except a bumper guard on the side and may be inflated with 35 pounds of air, about half that required by the ordinary tire.

Latest models of Dodge touring cars and coupes were received and are on display. Both are particularly artistic and contain a number of exclusive features. The touring car has bumpers front and rear, spare tire, automatic windshield wiper and it upholstered in blue Spanish leather. The four passenger coupe, equipped with Fisher body and upholstered in velour, is one of the most attractive cars on the market.

Illinois Preacher Starts War Against Prohibition Violators

CHICAGO, Mar. 4.—"I'm not running a hospital, but a war department."

That was Rev. Elmer L. Williams' announcement when he began a clean-up crusade.

In the conservative suburb of Evanston he seized 50 gallons of alcohol in drug stores and a garage and used them as exhibits for a lecture.

"You won't help your church," they told me when I started civic activity," says Dr. Williams. "I replied that what I wanted was for the church to help the community."

In carrying out his conception of the church's proper service to its community, Dr. Williams has been arrested in his own parish district while gathering evidence against lawbreakers.

He has obtained convictions of numerous churchmen for renting their property for illegal purposes.

He has shaken a finger under the noses of men with impelling effect and has forced the dismissal of complaisant police lieutenants.

accident prevention, and at the same time having the highest accident rate on earth."

Thus does William H. Cameron, managing director of the National Safety Council, sum up the efforts of safety advocates in this country to educate workmen toward greater care in their work.

The reason for the paradox, he says, lies in the beginning of a prodigious movement for safety.

"It takes time to develop the safety habit in individuals," he replies.

"Safety consists only 25 per cent in the shield around the buzz saw and 75 per cent in the cautious brain and habits of the worker."

Yet this fundamental idea of industrial accident avoidance is realized by less than one-tenth of one per cent of the workers in this country, and by an almost imperceptible few abroad, Cameron estimates.

But the United States is taking the lead in safety.

BIOGRAPHY OF FORMER RECTOR

Lexington Herald Tells of Dr. Thomas L. Settle and His Church in That City

The Lexington Herald, in a series of articles on Lexington churches, carried yesterday in connection with a story on the Church of the Good Shepherd here this short biography of its rector, the Rev. Thomas L. Settle, well-known here:

The fifth anniversary of the installation of Dr. T. L. Settle as pastor of the Church of the Good Shepherd was observed Sunday.

The anniversary marked the close of a period which is half the clerical life of the pastor and which is said to be most prosperous four years in the 50 in the history of the church.

Dr. Settle, born in England and educated in the English Cathedral school with the religious background of a Cathedral choir boy, did not take clerical orders until 1917, previous to that time having engaged in business in New York and Kentucky.

In 1917, he became a lay reader and candidate for holy orders at St. John's church, Condon, Ky., at which time he was also chaplain for St. John's college institute. His second charge was at St. Mary's church, Middletown. In 1916, he was ordained a deacon in Winchester, and on July 2, 1918, was ordained into the priesthood at Christ Church Cathedral by the Rev. Lewis W. Burton, bishop of the diocese.

Since he has been in Lexington Dr. Settle has taken an active interest in public and civic affairs. He is a member of the board of directors of the Family Welfare Society and a member of the Kiwanis luncheon club.

With the exception of the scant biography given above, Dr. Settle refused to discuss himself. "I am of no importance," he said. "The church is the thing."

Public Welcomes Labor Banks, Declares Stone

WARREN S. STONE, Grand Chief of the B. of L. E. and President of the Banking Institute

THE public's response to the entrance of labor into the field of banking, indicates how real was the need the labor bank was designed to fill," declares Warren S. Stone, Grand Chief of the B. of L. E.

"Labor banks organized during the past year, bring the total up to 23 with resources of over $125,000,000. Of these the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers controls eight, its bank in Cleveland, the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers Cooperative National Bank, has the distinction not only of being the largest labor bank in the country, but the fastest growing. From $5,000,000 in deposits, it has increased to $10,000,000 as of Nov. 31, 1923. We have just completed the organization of the Brotherhood Investment Company with a capital of $10,000,000, which will serve as the distributing agency for securities to labor banks throughout the country.

"In this remarkable development the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers is glad to have a part. In a sense it comes as a fitting climax to a record without parallel in the labor world. During fifty-six years the Brotherhood has never had a broken contract with the railroad industry, such an achievement being a mark of responsibility which is of incalculable value when considered in the banking field."

AN OLD HORSE AND AN OLD MAN-- BEING A STORY OF GREAT LOYALTY

PEGGY JIM

READSBORO, Vt., Mar. 4.—Old Jim Davis, the hermit of Florida Mountain, is in town now, to stay for a while.

He is doing well—if one knows what he has just gone through. There is an alert twinkle in his eye, there is a young spirit in his old body.

"Yes," Old Jim admits, with due thought, "I figger I'll stay around these parts for a while. It's a bit hard for a fellow 80 odd to get on by himself in the mountains. If it hadn't been for Peggy—"

If it hadn't been for Peggy Old Jim would not be alive today.

Peggy is Jim's best pal—his horse. Peggy saved Jim's life, saved Jim from freezing to death in a blizzard.

The two, man and horse, went into the Berkshire mountains last fall, after a visit here with Harrison Davis, Old Jim's son. Everything would have been all right if Jim hadn't suffered a severe attack of grip. Wintering in his isolated shack on Florida Mountain was no new adventure.

But the grip wouldn't leave the old man. He lost his strength, his provisions ran low and a merciless blizzard heaped snow, drift upon drift, over his cabin.

"I could have stuck a while longer," Jim says, "but I couldn't bear to see Peggy suffer."

So the man and his horse struck out for North Adams, down the treacherous Mohawk trail.

A GOOD LAXATIVE

Black-Draught Recommended by an Illinois Lady, Who Says It Helps Her.—"Fine for the Liver."

St. Elmo, Ill.—"I have used Black-Draught for three years," says Mrs. J. W. Boyd, a well-known member of this community. "I was visiting a friend who had used it for some time. I was in need of a laxative and I had a burning in my stomach. I was constipated. She gave me a dose of Black-Draught and it helped me, so I used it from then on. It certainly benefited me. I think it is fine for the liver, too. I am glad to recommend it."

"One day our pastor was visiting at, and he said his system seemed clogged and asked me to give him something to take. I gave him Black-Draught. He was much pleased with the results and bought a package, himself."

Constipation forces the system to absorb poisons that should be thrown out, causing pain, discomfort and tending to undermine your health. Black-Draught helps to relieve this condition by acting on the bowels, and by regulating the liver when it is torpid, thus helping to drive out many poisons in a easy, natural way.

Don't take chances! At the first indication of constipation, take Black-Draught. Costs only a cent a dose.

Your local druggist, or dealer, sells Black-Draught. NC-153

"Storm clouds brought early darkness," Davis tells the story. "And I thought I knew the trail better than Peggy. A horse's instinct is better than any man's eye on a dark night. But I tightened the reins and tried to drive her."

"The next thing I knew we were ditched, Peggy went down and I was caught underneath one of the sled runners."

And there the old man lay, unconscious, in the deep snow, at night, in a mountain ravine.

The horse broke loose from its harness—free to trot along. But Peggy is Old Jim's horse! She tried to pull her master from under the sled—rents in this overcoat proved her attempt.

"She knew I was caught, all right," Jim continues. "And she knew I was stuck good!"

"But in the morning when I came to my senses a little I felt warm. And what do you think! Peggy had cuddled as close to me as she could get, to keep me warm."

With daylight Peggy set out for help. Down in North Adams everybody knows Old Jim's mare, and she readily attracted a rescue party.

Peggy's heroic feat was not in vain, for Old Jim was soon brought around to fair health in the North Adams Hospital, and now he is living with his son here.

And Peggy—"I'll bet she's off her feed now, worrying about me," says Jim—is being cared for by a friend in North Adams.

Headlight Hill was a colored gentleman of sporting propensities, who had got his name from a large diamond which he wore on a stud. He had been called to consult a doctor about a "nubbery" in his chest. The medical man eyed his stud keenly. This made Headlight somewhat uneasy.

After asking a number of questions the doctor produced a stethoscope and placed it squarely over the stud. Finishing his examination the doctor looked solemn. So did the patient.

"Ain't it gemmy, doctor?" asked Headlight. —Pittsburg Sun.

Section's Resources In Developing Tourist Business Hardly Scratched, Says Prominent Hotel and Road Man

ASHEVILLE, N. C., Mar. 5.—Asheville and Western North Carolina have hardly scratched the surface in the development of the tourist business when the great future possibilities are taken into consideration," declared J. Stacey Hill, president of the Gibson hotel, Cincinnati, and vice president of the Asheville Highway Association, in an address to the members of the Western Carolina Motor Club.

In beginning his speech, Mr. Hill said that he had been driven around the city and through the Blue Ridge estate and other points during the afternoon and he declared that it was manifest that Asheville is one of the most beautiful parks in the world, when it comes to scenery. He continued:

"I go to California almost every year to keep in touch with travel and its needs; they are spending $5,000,000 there advertising the beauties and attractions of California. Last year when I was there I found the big hotels and smaller ones, too, packed and turning away guests. Asheville has all the possibilities and more than California, and with good roads and more advertising your city's growth will bound forward at a rate that will almost take your breath.

The through travel which Mr. Buckner has been telling you about will be insignificant compared to the tourist business that will come here to enjoy the great Western Carolina park and its majestic scenery. The financial benefits of the through travel from the North, Middle West and West and its quick money is worth all the efforts to push through to completion this road project program to Cincinnati, and your road program in North Carolina. With the completion of the thru roads your growth will then depend only on the amount of advertising and publicity you do.

Radio Advertising
Radio as an advertising medium would be of great value to Asheville. Out in Minnesota they have radio lectures once a week to tell of its 10,000 lakes and other attractions none of which can equal the scenic interest in Western North Carolina. Asheville should add a great broadcasting radio station as an advertising investment.

"We held a big meeting in Cincinnati a few weeks ago to hear and endorse a through road from Cincinnati to the South presented by your Mr. Buckner and Mr. O'Connor. Your mayor, Mr. Cather, made a hit with the business men of Cincinnati and set people thinking about Asheville. He made one remark that stuck in my mind and that was that North Carolina was formerly noted for illiteracy and moonshine and that if people anywhere wanted to see illiteracy in North Carolina they must come soon as it was fast becoming eliminated through better and more schools and special training on the part of the state, but that there was still a fairly large quantity of moonshine. I have been here for 12 hours and have seen neither illiteracy nor moonshine.

North Carolina leads the entire south in cars, except Texas, with 247,000. Virginia has 22,000 cars; Tennessee, 187,000, on down to 104,000 in Arkansas.

The Christians defeated the Baptists in the first game played last night. The final score was 12 to 7. The Christians outplayed the Baptists in the first half but in the second half the Baptists came back and tied the score 7 to 7. An extra five minutes was then played in which the Christians shot five points and won the game.

The line-up was:
Baptists
Lawson (2) ..... (1) Birchett
Yeary (2) ..... (5) Garrett
Austin (3) ..... (4) Griffith
McKeehan ..... (2) White
Substitutions: Caraway for McKeehan.
The Presbyterians were beaten by the Pineville Baptists, 10 to 4 in a very one-sided game. Henderson was again the star with 15 points to his credit.

The line-up follows:
P. Baptists
Jones ..... (3) Callison
T. Carnes ..... Snyder
Henderson (15) ..... Wallbrece
J. Carnes ..... Kinaird
Hoskins (1) ..... (1) Tate
The league standing at the end of the season is as follows:

CURE FOR DRUG EVIL LIES IN LIMITATION OF PRODUCTION

CLOSE cooperation of social and official forces marks the latest offensive in the campaign against the narcotic drug evil. Years of unceasing warfare have not sufficed to even check it in the United States. Leaders in the movement are now united in an effort to bring about limitation of poppy growing and opium production. These things may be done only by other nations, particularly Great Britain, Persia and Turkey. So, one angle of the new attack is to arouse public interest here to the knowledge that only in this limitation can real progress be made; without this limitation the drug evil cannot be abolished.

According to figures gathered for the Secretary of the Treasury by a special committee appointed to study the narcotic drug problem, the 1,000,000 drug addicts in this country consume more opium, heroin, morphine and cocaine than all the nations of Europe combined. Recorded importations of opium for legitimate medical and scientific use were a little more than 100,000 pounds a year shortly after the Civil War. They have now increased to more than four-fold. Ninety per cent of these importations are said to be for addicts indirectly. The drug evil has now covered the operation of government. It is authoritatively one cause for the recent visit here of Sir Charles Higgins, representative of the foreign tea interests and was equaled every year the amounts introduced through lawful channels, thus doubling the figures shown on the chart.

That the United States is not hopelessly enthralled by the lure of stimulants is shown by a survey of the less vicious drug and stimulant field. Use of alcohol as expressed in whiskey, beer and wine drinking has decreased. Use of caffeine, a drug having definite pharmacological properties, as expressed in coffee drinking, has decreased in the last three years for which government figures are available. The drug caffeine constitutes 1.5 per cent of coffee by weight. Taking this as a basis of computation, coffee importations have dropped sufficiently to decrease caffeine consumption from 21,255,952 pounds in 1920 to 18,626,816 pounds at the end of 1922. Tea has shown a large decline in popularity, dropping to a per capita consumption lower than at any time since 1830.

L&N Employees With Their Families Would Form A City Of 200,000

The Louisville & Nashville Railroad has on its pay-roll 52,000 employees, to whom it paid in 1923 over $75,000,000. Most of them have families and every one, no doubt, contributes something to the support of some family.

Based on the Government average of 4.3 persons to an American family, there are wholly supported or to some extent benefited, by the wages of L. & N. employees, over 200,000 people—a number greater than the population of a city the size of Atlanta, Ga.

In addition, thousands of other people are given employment in various industries from which the L. & N. buys materials and supplies of all descriptions, aggregating in 1923 over $37,000,000.

Moreover, these 200,000 people of the L. & N. family constitute a complete city; because there is no class of labor, not represented among the L. & N.'s 52,000 employees.

These, and other facts which the L. & N. is making public, will enable you to realize the economic value of this great transportation system to the territory it serves. They should help you to remember that as this railroad prospers so you and your neighbors prosper, and that what over hurts the L. & N. and restricts its capacity for profitable public service must necessarily hurt you and your community.
